

CLIMATE CHANGE

UNDP, through its GEF Small Grants Programme, and in partnership with local communities and the Civil Society protects and rehabilitates degraded wetlands through community land and water resources management initiatives that generate both environmental and livelihood support benefits

The community hands-on working on the construction of a dam that would store water and help in times of drought or there of lack of rain

The communities of Khoelenya Council in Mohale's Hoek district show case their improved and increased harvested food produce, as result of the capacity building support on climate smart agriculture from the GEF financed project RVCC implemented by UNDP & Government of Lesotho