GRAPHICAL REPRESENTATION OF KEY RESULTS

Interpreting the Green Bars in Graphs: The presence of green bars indicates the number of years that the country programme has achieved specific results. If a green bar is absent, it signifies that while the associated result is not observed in the country programme, it is still evident in the overall aggregated SGP portfolio.

Number of Years Country Programme Deployed Gender Mainsreaming Strategies (Over 7-year reporting period from 2017-2023)

EXAMPLES OF PROJECT RESULTS

Biodiversity

In Uzbekistan, SGP supported grantee Mahalla Committee "4 Chukkayma" in the development of beekeeping in the Parkent district as a way of demonstrating the economic importance of environmental services. To this end, professional beekeepers transferred their knowledge and skills to 20 local families that have been trained and mentored on how to keep bees in regular households. Furthermore, the project provided initial equipment for beekeeping to the families and 1000 copies of a manual have been produced distributed among the local population with detailed instruction. (Source: Annual Monitoring Report, 2016-2017)

South-South Exchange

In Uzbekistan, SGP chose agricultural landscape as their focus for OP6, and conservation agriculture became one of the areas SGP actively promoted in the country. As part of these efforts, SGP supported a South-South exchange where farmers from Uzbekistan received training from farmers in Russia in February 2019, specifically on additional experience and knowledge of using the no-till technology and other elements of conservation agriculture. Since the exchange, five farmers engaged in sustainable farming practices and two received support from SGP to implement sustainable agriculture projects, in particular, no-till and drip irrigation for cotton and other technical crops. Cotton is the main crop for Uzbekistan and one of the main drivers of land degradation. The project is intended to be replicated to the rest of the country if it succeeds. (Source: Annual Monitoring Report, 2018-2019)

Scaling up, Replication and Policy Influence

In Uzbekistan the demonstration project installed capacity sufficient for avoiding 160 tons of CO2 equivalent, and additionally 30 local farmers were trained and started to implement the technology. (Source: Annual Monitoring Report, 2016-2017)

METHODOLOGICAL BASIS OF COUNTRY REPORT

- Results aggregations over time are only for completed projects.
- With SGP's rolling modality, results reflect all ongoing operational phases during the indicated period. Please refer to the total projects completed on the first page for information in this regard.
- The source of reported results is the annual monitoring process, which is part of the annual monitoring requirements for each country programme. Additionally, evaluative evidence sources have also been leveraged, if available for the country programme.
- This results report benefits from extensive quality assurance. All information across all countries in the portfolio is harmonized, verified, and evidenced before being reported. Several layers of this quality assurance have been implemented in the generation of this report and there are no result duplications across years. This point is important not only for a specific unit of measurement (i.e., indicator selected) but also for results aggregation across years in a given operational phase. Reported results include both direct and indirect global-environmental and socio-economic benefits. This is due to SGP's work in two key areas:
 - SGP works towards behavioural change at individual, organizational, and community levels. Social determinants that shape human interaction with the environment play an important role, especially at the community level, as sustainability and the continuation of environmental gains often depend on them. These factors include positive shifts in knowledge, attitudes, practices, social and cultural norms, and conventions. Such interventions shape not only demand but also communication between community leaders and other influencers in promoting the adoption of environmentally friendly behaviours and practices. Often, SGP projects have ripple effects that go well beyond the direct scope of the project, emphasizing the importance of measuring indirect impact.
 - Encouraging Community Action for Environmental Change. For many years, SGP has focused on promoting and supporting local community groups to bring about broader and sustainable environmental change. This approach is a key aspect of SGP's work and recognizes the power of motivated community groups to create significant impact and drive positive transformation. Community group action refers to informal gatherings of individuals and organizations in the community who share a common belief and purpose. It involves taking practical steps over time to address environmental and socioeconomic challenges and creating positive change. This grassroots-level approach relies on the active involvement and empowerment of the community, with the initial efforts acting as a catalyst for further mobilization. By encouraging self-governance and involving those most affected by the issues, community action can extend its influence to more people in the community, underscoring the importance of measuring indirect impact.
